Bailiwick Wines

2013 Alegría Vineyard Cabernet Franc Russian River Valley, Sonoma County

Founded in 2009 by brothers Bryan and Paul Vais, Bailiwick Wines is based in Sonoma County and specializes in producing limited quantities of Pinot Noir, Cabernet Franc, and Vermentino from top vineyards in Northern and Central California.

The Vais brothers are natives of the San Francisco Bay area and grew up in a family of exceptional cooks, where the heart and soul of their family traditions were centered around great meals complemented by classic California wines. They also spent time living abroad where they gained an appreciation for Old World food and wine traditions, and specifically, a passion for balanced wines that complement meals, rather than overpower them. Bryan and Paul started making wine in their San Francisco garage, now nearly thirty years ago, and it became their ultimate goal to one day start a winery of their own.

While they both went on to pursue careers in engineering, high technology, and finance, the lure of the wine industry was too strong to ignore and they eventually decided to go for it in the fall of 2009. Bailiwick Wines was born!

Bailiwick Wines sources fruit from various vineyards in Northern and Central California, including properties in Sonoma, Lake County, Marin County, Mendocino County, and San Luis Obispo County. The focus is on Pinot Noir, Cabernet Franc, and Vermentino, with the goal of featuring multiple appellations to show different expressions of each varietal. Bryan and Paul spend a great deal of time seeking out new vineyards and growers that are aligned with their vision for quality and expressiveness. They also take special care in the cellar, ensuring their wines are made to harmonize with food - not only reflecting the Old World culture they were initially inspired by, but also embracing their own family traditions of gathering together over great meals complemented by great wines.

Now in their seventh year, the Vais brothers have much to celebrate with their growing boutique winery, as they continue to earn substantial praise in the national wine press - taking home multiple 90+ scores and Gold Medals since their inception. Cheers!

Accolades & Tasting Notes

90 POINTS - Wine Enthusiast magazine

The Vais brothers have always enjoyed Cabernet Franc as it is produced in France's Loire Valley, the historical source for many delightful French bistro wines. Searching in Sonoma County, they found a vineyard that produces Cabernet Franc grapes in this particular style - the Alegría Vineyard near Healdsburg. This 2013 Cabernet Franc's fresh aromas of boysenberry, violets, leather, and wet granite complement the ripe flavors of boysenberry, and cherry, backed by nice minerality and soft tannins. This is a deliciously fresh rendition of a Cabernet Franc. Aged 17 months in oak. Enjoy now until 2023.
