DuMOL

2010 Eddie's Patch Syrah
Russian River Valley, Sonoma

To say that the DuMOL Winery is a work of art would be a gross understatement. The Russian River Valley based winery is a highly specific, state-of-the-art winemaking facility that was carefully engineered and constructed to afford maximum quality production and world-class wines.

DuMOL Winery owner Kerry Murphy credits his interest in wines to his travels to France early in his life. Kerry's family was in the tire business and sold Michelin products and often traveled to Michelin's headquarters in Clermont-Ferrand, France. It was very close to Bordeaux and Burgundy, which Kerry found himself especially drawn too, and the great winemaking regions soon became familiar destinations for the Murphy family.

After the Murphys' business was sold to Goodyear Tire Company, Kerry decided to enter the winery business. He had maintained a small cellar that was home to a number of top-caliber French wines and wanted very much to create a winery that emulated the great varietals from the country. After a great deal of searching, Kerry settled on Sonoma's Russian River Valley and set out with the intention of crafting some of the best wines in the world.

DuMOL Winery, which was named after the initial winemaker's children (Duncan and Molly), released its first 300 cases (equal numbers of Pinot Noir and Chardonnay) in 1996 and the rest was history. The winery consistently garners excellent reviews from the top periodicals and sells out of every wine. Given the spectacular quality that has emerged from DuMOL, it is surprising that the winery is still fairly under the radar.

While DuMOL Winery owns three distinct vineyards for its estate production, it also purchases fruit from many of the premier growers in the area. The likes of Dutton Ranch, Larry Hyde & Sons Vineyard, and Charles Heintz Vineyard produce grapes that become part of DuMOL Winery's prestigious portfolio. The wines are made at DuMOL's incredible winery facility that was constructed in Windsor, California in 2008. We are proud to present to you this magnificent producer. Cheers!

DuMOL's 2010 "Eddie's Patch" Syrah was produced from the Hoppe-Kelly Vineyard in Sonoma's Russian River Valley. All about the floral perfumed elegance and balanced suppleness, this Syrah effortlessly shows the Hoppe-Kelly Vineyard character with its natural density. Saturated purple in color, the Eddie's Patch Syrah opens with fresh, bright aromas of cola, raspberry, cherry and mint, with hints of olive, blackberry and dried herbs. The palate is savory with flavors of black currant, black pepper and a distinctive floral character that linger on the long finish. Aged 17 months in oak. 100% Syrah. Enjoy now until 2020.
