Flying Horse Winery
2003 Cabernet Sauvignon
 Napa Valley
800 Cases Produced

Built over a century ago in 1880 by Napa Valley winegrower William Castner, the historic stone building that houses Flying Horse Winery is one of only a few remaining ghost wineries in St. Helena. The winery was closed during Prohibition in 1920 and was finally rediscovered by Bryant Morris who saw the potential of the building and the surrounding property and he has since been in the process of restoring them to their original beauty. A California native, Bryant has taken his love of play and recreation and successfully integrated it into his life's work by designing a number of famous water parks throughout the country (Raging Waters & Splash Town) and mastering the unique art of restoring vintage carousels. When the idea and opportunity of producing world-class Napa Valley wine presented itself, the carousel horse seemed like the natural choice for the name and label of the new winery. Bryant sought out winemaking assistance from top industry consultants, May Britt and Denis Malbec, who each have a rich European history and decades of experience. Like the carousel animals that inspired the spirited horses on the labels, Flying Horse wines are handcrafted, each fully expressing the "place" from which they come and every bottle.

ACCOLADES & TASTING NOTES

Sourced from St. Helena's estate King and Cassiopeia vineyards, and situated alongside the historic Aetna Springs, the Flying Horse 2003 Cabernet Sauvignon is the winery's first release and a Double Gold Medal winner at the San Francisco Chronicle Wine Competition. This Cabernet Sauvignon faithfully embraces the renowned terroir of Napa Valley's appellation and delivers tremendous opulence and flavor complexities. Inky, dense and deep crimson-purple in color, this wine lends aromas of red currant, anise, black cherry, and dried cranberry with hints of lavender. Flavors of crème de cassis, crushed pepper and mulberry jam lead into a long finish with notes of earth, chocolate and black truffle. Try pairing the Flying Horse 2003 Cabernet Sauvignon with grilled lamb, beef, and hearty pasta dishes with red meat sauces. Aged 20 months in oak. 100% Cabernet Sauvignon. Enjoy now until 2012.
